

Integration of Financial Markets, Fintech, and Opportunities for Financial Services in Hong Kong

Speaker: Mr. Esmond Lee, Senior Advisor, Financial Services Development Council

In this talk, we are pleased to invite Mr. Esmond Lee, financial industry expert and former central banker, to share his views about the following topics:

- Overview of Hong Kong's current financial landscape;
- Hong Kong's prospect as a leading global financial center given the USD currency peg and further integration of capital markets with mainland China;
- Financial services in the digital age - evaluating key strategies to stay competitive and relevant;
- How will Hong Kong insurance industry benefit from fintech and capital market development in mainland China?

Mr. Esmond Lee is now the Senior Advisor in the Financial Services Development Council (FSDC) which has been set up by the Hong Kong SAR Government to develop financial services.

Before joining the FSDC in 2016, Mr. Lee served as an Executive Director of Financial Infrastructure Department at the Hong Kong Monetary Authority (HKMA). While Mr. Lee was working at the HKMA, he played a key role in the development and operation of the financial infrastructure in Hong Kong, especially clearing and settlement systems, such as the Shanghai and Shenzhen Connect program. In addition, he served as the HKMA's Chief Representative in New York from 1998 to 2000. Before joining the HKMA in 1993, Mr. Lee worked as the Principal Economist in the Hong Kong Government.

This talk may qualify for (Actuaries Institute Australia / ASHK / CAS / CIA / IFoA / SOA) Continuing Professional Development (CPD). The ASHK wishes to express thanks to Ernst & Young for its kind offer of venue for the talk.
